The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3,5-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the applicants admission of Prior Art, as set forth in figures 18-20 of the present application in view of Tornero ('107).

Figures 18-20 of the present application, titled "Prior Art", appear to show structure as claimed, including a mounting member forming a cavity in which the strut is slidably located. A slot is formed in the mounting member for guiding a stud mounted to the strut. This serves to limit the displacement of the strut member within the cavity. The figures also show a resilient member within a notch in the strut member and a plurality of tubular guides within channels located along the mounting member. While the nature of the tubular guides is not clear, the use of deformable guides is conventional and well known in the art as taught by Tornero (figs. 2,3,9,10).

Claims 17-20 are allowed.

Applicant's arguments filed October 12, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Contrary to applicant's arguments, the "prior art" figures in the application do indeed show a means to limit displacement of the strut within the cavity, comprised of a stud slidable within a slot (figs. 18,20).

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
